1. The Socialist Party of Nicaragua (PSN) is making preparations for the publication of a newspaper to be called Labor, which is to replace their present labor weekly Voz Popular, as well as to serve the purposes formerly served by their political organ Unidad. The attempt to combine the two functions, labor organization and political propaganda, in the one weekly will be most interesting to watch inasmuch as the Nicaraguan Labor Code specifically forbids unions from engaging in political activity.
2. The sheet will have financial difficulty since the printing equipment was confiscated in July of this year as a part of Somoza's anti-Communist campaign and has not been returned, despite PSN personal and legal representations to the present Government.
